Dunwiddie Won't Seek 8th Term as District Attorney

MELLON CHARGES FLATLY DENIED BY FORMER OPERATIVE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Washington—In a letter to Secretary Mellon, dated public today, H. L. Seafie, former special agent of the department of justice, referred to some statements made by Mr. Mellon at the trial of Gaston B. Means in New York yesterday.

"It is not true," the letter said, "that I ever at any time asked you to assist me in the investigation of the condition in your department and your connection with the liquor business. I offered to help and assist you if you desired these conditions to be remedied. As my correspondence with you will show, for my pains in the matter, agents of your department were placed on my trail and made futile efforts to find something with which they might discredit me. Although you have gone so far as to deny this in writing, the facts have been proved."

As to the assertion that the Overholt Distillery, in which Mr. Mellon testified he had had an interest, had come into liquidation, the letter said records of the commissioner of internal revenue would show "that on Sept. 5, 1922, an Overholt company was designated by the treasury department as a concentration of internal revenue bureau officials."

RECRUIT ARMY OF SENTINELS FOR SENATOR

Cleveland—A vote recruiting army of 1,000,000 "American sentinels" is being organized by followers and admirers of Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, who is expected to receive the presidential nomination at the convention of the progressive political action here on July 4 and 5, according to Lester P. Barlow, chairman of the draft, recently organized non-partisan political organization.

"The sentinels," both men and women, will be in uniform and are prepared to go into the highways of the nation "to arouse the non-voters of the necessity of progressive balloting in the coming election."

No color, class or creed lines are to be drawn and members will not be pledged to support the candidate endorsed by the organization. It is planned to tax each member two dollars to go into the progressive campaign fund.

The campaign slogan will be "clean sweep for the spirit of '76'."

LEOPOLD BOASTS HE CAN ESCAPE; NEW PRECAUTIONS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Chicago—Precautions to insure the continued detention of Nathan Leopold, who, with Richard Loeb, both millionaires' sons, are awaiting trial for kidnapping and slaying Robert Francis, have been taken by jail officials since Leopold dropped hints he could escape if he wanted to.

The former college graduate student is reported to have intimated to jail attaches he could obtain his freedom if he desired. He is said to have refused to divulge any plan he has made.

Meanwhile state's attorneys have resumed questioning of witnesses relative to the mental condition of the youths, whose defense will be insanity.

Stanley G. Dunwiddie, district attorney of Rock county for the past 14 years, issued a statement Friday in which he announced that he will retire from that office at the end of his present term, that he will not be a candidate for re-election this fall.

Mr. Dunwiddie withdrew from the field leaves George S. Gelfa, Janesville, as the sole candidate who has announced himself so far.

In his statement, the district attorney points to the tremendous increase in the work since he took office, listing 1,200 cases and $17,000 in fees, as the record for 1923. Since 1911, Mr. Dunwiddie says he has prosecuted 12 murder and manslaughter cases, while for the 16 years preceding 1911 there were only three such cases.

"Having decided not to again be a candidate for re-election to the office of district attorney for Rock county, I feel that I should state at this time in fairness to anyone who might be considering the advisability of becoming a candidate for that office," stated Mr. Dunwiddie.

"Though sincerely appreciating the honor that has been given me in the past, nevertheless, I feel that it is time for me to retire, not only for the reason that I have had more than my share of honor and reward from my fellow citizens, but also for financial reasons that I may devote my full time to my private practice."

Work has increased.

Two Farmers on Route 20 Start Trespass Action

Trespass proceedings have been instituted by James Murphy and Matt Mahoney, two farmers living near Eastville, Wis., against the Wisconsin Road Contractors' association in grading for Highway 20, west of Janesville. The road crew, it is alleged, has entered on their land and is leveling the sub-grade for the new concrete road.

The farmers contend that the property belongs to them and that the county has no right to enter it until the purchase of it is completed. Condemnation and appraisal proceedings have been under way for several months, but no settlement has been reached in regard to these tracts.

E. H. Ryan, Janesville, is appearing as attorney for the two footvoters.

Madison on Thursday in an effort to establish the sub-grade for the new concrete road.

The "sentinels," both men and women, will be in uniform and are prepared to go into the highways of the nation "to arouse the non-voters of the necessity of progressive balloting in the coming election."

No color, class or creed lines are to be drawn and members will not be pledged to support the candidate endorsed by the organization. It is planned to tax each member two dollars to go into the progressive campaign fund.

PRISONERS HERE ENROUTE TO WAUPUN

State Parole Officer Seibel, accompanied by the Wyan brothers, parole violators of the state, were enroute through Janesville Friday morning on their way to Waupun.

The Wyan brothers, convicted of auto theft in La Crosse, were sentenced to four years' confinement.

They were recently paroled in Milwaukee, but deserted to their home in Kewaunee, where they were again arrested. They will be obliged to serve the remainder of their four year sentences.

HIGHWAY POLICEMAN SEEKS MADISON MAN

Constable Merton G. Miller, county highway police, drove his motorcycle to Madison on Thursday in an effort to serve a warrant charging reckless driving. The man sought, P. Blossom, could not be located as he is on a business trip in Illinois. Blossom is wanted for cutting in on the right hand side of a car traveling the same direction on the Emerald Grove road June 12.

FOOT TRAFFIC ON BRIDGE RESUMED

Albany—Traffic on foot went over the Albany bridge again for the first time since Tuesday with the lowering by a foot and a half of the level of Sugar river, which has kept the bridge under water. Milk is being taken across the bridge to the condenser in hand trucks, no cars or vehicles being allowed to cross as it is believed the temporary bridge is floating.

Platform Builders in Jam, Delay Report Until Late Friday

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

New York—The Ku Klux Klan and the league of nations remained today in the jamming jamboes in the way of an agreement among the democratic platform builders.

On all other plans, including even those dealing with prohibition, agriculture and transportation, the platform committee of the democratic national convention was in accord. On the Klan more than 20 hours of deliberation in sub-committee have been spent and many more hours of argument last night in entire committee was devoted to it.

The platform committee today over the party declarations until nearly 3:30 o'clock this morning be-

ALL UP IN THE AIR

THE CONVENTION AT 3 P. M.

At three o'clock this afternoon the situation in reference to the democratic national convention was that all forenoon had been taken up with speeches nominating candidates and demonstrations big and little for these names as presented.

The platform committee was still at work on the resolutions and it was believed would report at any time.

The strategy of the McAdoo forces was to force a ballot before the platform had been accepted.

It is believed that the convention will hold an all night session like the convention of 1892.

It is probable that the Klan and League of Nations fight will go to the floor of the convention but the leaders are trying to avoid that.

There will be no president nominated today or tonight is the belief of everybody concerned and balloting will be the order of Saturday.

Names of candidates presented to the convention so far are: McAdoo, Smith, Ralston, Ferris, Silzer, Underwood, Robinson, Saulsbury, Jonathan Davis, J. W. Davis, Ritchie, Gov. Brown, New Hampshire, (a new one), Houston, Ferris, Chas. Ryan, Cox.

DEATH TAKES 2 IN DELAVAN FAMILY

William Holmes and Brother-in-Law, John Cusack Die Friday.

Delavan.—A double sorrow visited one family within the space of two hours Friday morning when William Holmes, 71, died at 5:30 o'clock of heart failure, and his brother-in-law, John Cusack, 57, passed away at 7:30.

Mr. Holmes was born in New York and came to Delavan with his parents when a boy. He was a Delavan real-estate man for 45 years. He was united in marriage in November, 1876, to Margaret Moore. Children surviving are: Mrs. William Moore, Delavan, at whose home he died, and Mrs. James Dowling, Delavan. His sister, Mrs. Charles Daly, Woodstock, Ill., formerly of Janesville, also survives.

Mr. Cusack was born in Oswego, N. Y., in 1857 and was married to Mayme Moore in Delavan in 1888. She died three years ago. Two children are left to mourn his death: John, Delavan, and Mabel, a graduate nurse of Mercy hospital, Janesville. Another child, Martin, died a number of years ago. One brother and two sisters also survive: William Cusack, Elkhorn; Mrs. Hannah Conry, Sharon; and Mrs. Fannie Hutton, Elkhorn.

The body of Mr. Cusack will be taken to the home of his niece, Mrs. William Vance, and the funeral will be held at 10 a. m. Monday in St. Andrew's Catholic church here. The funeral of Mr. Holmes will be held at 8:30 a. m. Monday in the same church and both will be buried in the Delavan Catholic cemetery.

TEMPERATURE AGAIN RISING

Thursday missed by a few dozen drops the distinction of being rainless and the stretch of days on which there has been rain was increased to seven. With overcast skies Friday, there may be showers again. This is true especially with increasing temperature and humidity.

The mercury stood at 82 degrees at 1:30 p. m. Friday, jumping from 70 at 8 a. m. and 75 at noon. Rock river was gone down but five inches since Tuesday, now being 12 inches above the government mark.

30 MINERS DIE IN GAS BLAST

Winchester, Va.—Thirty miners were asphyxiated today by an explosion in the colliery at Hartgrove, where rescue work was found to be impossible, owing to defective gas masks, and some of the rescue party lost their lives.

WOMAN ONLY BADGER VOTING WITH McADOO FORCES ON ISSUE

Madison Square Garden, New York—Mrs. C. P. Crosby, wife of a well-known land agent at Rhineclaud, was the sole Wisconsin voter for the nation to adjourn until 7:30 and against the amendment to halt the convention until 10:30 Friday.

BAD DREAMS OF SPLIT OVER KU KLUX PLANK

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison Square Garden, New York.—Bewildered, apprehensive, filled with lingering memories of bad dreams about a party split, delegates sought on the fourth day of the convention to drown their sorrow in cheers and sporadic demonstrations as the second tidal wave of oratory engulfed the session.

Friday, bands played, men and women attempted to sing with cracked and squeaky voices, and sweltered in the oppressive damp with humidity and waited for the report of the platform committee.

They knew there was to be a fight over whether the name of the Ku Klux Klan was to appear in that platform or not. If it did not, the very heart of the democratic party would be attacked in the South.

So it was a bedraggled and weary set of delegates that came in late, took their seats, and sat another day through the long, hot speeches. With occasional visits to the hot dog stands in the basement in lieu of other lunch.

Madison Square Garden, New York.—Assembling for its fourth session today the democratic national convention convened in the Madison Square Garden, New York, to elect a platform and nominate candidates for the presidential election of 1924.

The order of business called for consideration of the platform as soon as the nominating speeches were completed. But the McAdoo forces who, president to take a start on the balloting before the platform comes into the combined forces opposed to the McAdoo movement.

More speeches on way.

With 10 candidates already placed in nomination at least five more were on the waiting list today and several more speeches also were on the program.

speech, as had been arranged by the McAdoo manager, he referred to the religious aspects of the convention under current events sent swirling by the contest over the Ku Klux Klan plank.

Nail-Klan Stand

Mr. O'Connor quoted from an address delivered by Mr. McAdoo at a St. Patrick's day celebration in which he declared himself for freedom of religious worship as provided in the constitution of the United States, freedom of speech, freedom of the press and the right of peaceful assembly.

"I am opposed in the name of soldiers and sailors who sleep in deathless silence," said O'Connor, "in their name, who offered their all in the name of millions of people of my own faith I want to say to you as an American citizen I condemn the order known as the Ku Klux Klan."

Thus Mr. O'Connor announced himself as being of the Catholic faith and opposed to the Ku Klux Klan. It was a point the McAdoo managers were glad of the opportunity to make before the convention.

Another Spasm of Noise
The convention went off into a spasm of cheering and racket with the band as usual instigating the noise.

A few good wallops of the gravel quieted the noise and let Mr. O'Connor proceed. He only proceeded far enough to say he seconded the nomination of "William G. McAdoo" and the McAdoo people took the opportunity to break loose again with another hurricane of "wah-hoos" and "Hoop-La's" hand-clapping and cheering.

Barkeley Brings Order
Representative Barkeley, however, was determined to have the convention do some business in the absence of Chairman Walsh and he proceeded to have the convention back to order very successfully, demonstrating plainly that quiet could be restored if the presiding officer wished to have it.

Mr. Barkeley ordered the ailes cleared, the delegates back to their seats as if he meant it, and presented Mrs. Carroll Miller of Pennsylvania, who delivered a speech seconding the nomination of Governor Smith.

BIG ROCK PRAIRIE PICNIC TO BE JULY 1

The annual Rock Prairie Community picnic will be held Tuesday, July 1 at Arngbhton, the farm of Mrs. J. Z. McAdoo. There will be the usual basket dinner, games and other diversions. The affair is being arranged by committees as follows: Reception, W. B. Austin, Rev. Carl Meckelson and Mrs. J. Z. McAdoo; refreshments, W. B. Austin; entertainment, John McAdoo; games, Robert Lamb.

FOUR LIQUOR CASES AGAIN POSTPONED

The case of Herman Baker, Alton's grocer, William Ballinger, Sharon and Frank Player, Janesville, all charged with the possession of unlawful intoxicants, was indefinitely postponed by Judge H. L. Maxfield in municipal court Friday morning.

Ray Loeffler, Janesville, alleged to have sold intoxicants, was also scheduled to be heard today, but action was postponed. The adjournment in the cases was taken due to the inability of the state to secure necessary witnesses.

MISTRESS WILDING:

A ROMANCE, BY RAFAEL SABATINI.

Young Richard Westmacott, by nature a cowardly, but fired by the wine of Lord Herve's Scotch's richly appointed board, dashes a cup of whisky into the face of Anthony Wilding when that gentleman is about to dash a toast to the man who has been the fast young fool's sister. He knows Wilding loves Ruth and calculates for that reason to use the toast to his advantage. But Ruth Wilding with impunity. But Ruth has scorned Wilding's attentions, and she has made him a great favorite with her. Wilding and Richard are to fight a duel on the morrow. That night Richard rides to his sister's home in Bridgewater a sobered and an enigmatical man. Sir Rowland Blake, the father Richard favors, for he has drawn a bargain with Blake that when Ruth marries him a quarter of her inheritance will be given over to Richard, who is a spendthrift and now penniless. But Ruth doesn't care for Sir Rowland, and she is sure that her cousin, Diana Horton, is deeply in love with him. The morning of the duel Sir Rowland appears at the Westmacott home in an effort to help Richard. He acquaints Ruth and Richard with the trouble. Diana persuades Ruth to call on Wilding and ask him to forego this duel, in which her brother would certainly be killed. Wilding says he will spare Richard's life and honor if she will marry him.

Richard hesitated again, and looked at Blake, who by now had come to realize that his friend's affairs were not merely his interruptions, moodily shrugged his shoulders, scowling. "Come, sir," said Colonel Luttrell, enough. "However, the Colonel," roared Albemarle, "let your invention have free rein." Again poor Richard sought refuge in the truth. "Sir Rowland here and I—would you expect that he was awaiting such a letter?" "Tell us your reasons, sir, if we are to credit you," said the Duke, and it was plain he mocked the prisoner. It was, moreover, a request that staggered Richard. He sought to find a reason that should sound plausible. "We informed it from certain remarks that Mr. Wilding let fall in our presence."

"Tell us the remarks, sir," the Duke insisted. "Indeed, I do not recall his precise words to mind," said the Duke. But they were such that we suspected him. "And you would have me believe that hearing words which awake in you such grave suspicions, you kept your suspicions and straightway forged the words. You're but an insignificant liar."

Trenchard, who was standing by the long table, leaned forward now. "It might be well, in this case," said the Duke, "to wait the point, and let us come to these matters which are of greater moment. Let him tell you, Grace, how he came by the letter?" "Yes," said Albemarle. "We do but waste time. Tell us, then how came the letter into your hands?" "With Sir Rowland, here," replied the Duke, "he was riding from Taunton to Bridgewater."

Albemarle laughed, and Sir Edward smiled. "You robbed him, eh?" said the Duke. "Very well, but how did it happen?" "I can't say," said the Duke, "but it was that you were playing the light-house, and that in robbing him you hoped to find other matters."

"Not so, sir," answered Richard. "I sought him the letter."

"And how knew you that he carried it?" "I heard it," said the Duke, "from Mr. Wilding's indignant tone."

"Your Grace has said it."

"Sift! What an impudent rogue have we here!" cried the angry Duke, who, convinced that Richard was purposely defying his frontiers. "Mr. Trenchard, I do think we are wasting time. He so good as to confess that he has the truth of this matter."

"That letter," said Trenchard, "was delivered to them at the Hare and Hounds, here at Taunton by a gentleman who put up at the inn, and was there joined by Mr. Westmacott and Sir Rowland Blake. They opened the conversation with certain court phrases very clearly intended as jests and banter. The prisoners said to the messenger, they seated themselves at the table occupied. You have the air, sir, of being from overseas, to which the companion answered, 'Indeed, yes, I am from Holland.' From the land of Orange," says one of the prisoners. "Ay, and other things," replies the messenger. "There is a fair wind blowing," he adds, to which one of the prisoners, I believe it was Sir Rowland, makes answer. May it prosper the Protestant Duke and his people. The messenger then said to the landlady, 'The landlady might mention a letter, but these plotters, perceiving that they were perhaps being overheard, sent him away to fetch them wine. A half-hour later the messenger took his leave, and the prisoners followed a very few minutes afterward.'

Albemarle turned to the prisoners.

Refreshments Promise Gets Action as Hired Enthusiasm Loses Kick

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Madison Square Garden, New York—Every demonstration at the democratic convention here has been made by hired enthusiasm, one, which was the spontaneous outbreak of anti-Klan delegates when Forney Johnson mentioned that organization by name.

The McAdoo demonstration lost its force by its mechanics which, however perfect, were also scorable and noticeable. The Smith demonstration was a hired-hang outburst. The men and women who participated went to the convention Thursday for the sole purpose of shouting for Smith for two hours. And they came near winning the prize by doing it. The stage was set, the notes, machines were there with the separate songs—it was all so well arranged and so perfectly carried out that Tammany received a tribute to praise for the excellent machinery which it possesses. But as for the spontaneity, it was lacking about 99 1/2 per cent. It made enemies as well as friends. It made perhaps more enemies than it did votes. It was New York's way of trying to aid the governor with a presidential nomination, but it failed as a finality.

When the roll had been called Thursday down to Michigan it had been agreed among the leaders of the convention, if there are any, that adjournment would be taken to 7 or 7:30 at night in order to finish the nomination speeches. This was moved by vice-chairman of the national committee, Krenner of Montana. Then John Fitzgerald of Tammany Hall and Brooklyn got the floor. He moved an amendment to adjourn until 10:30 Friday. There was great confusion. The delegates were ready to quit after six hours of oratory and imitations. Chairman Walsh put the question and declared that the amendment was lost. There was a rush for the doors and extras declared that the adjournment had been made to the evening hour. But Fitzgerald called for a roll call. It was ordered. There was running around the floors. States that had named candidates and were out of the way, voted away. McAdoo's name was early all voted no. Delegations had fights among themselves in several states as to the validity of the vote announced. Arizona challenged its own vote. Ohio did the same. It took half an hour to straighten out all the kinks and finally, with 12 no and 55 yes, the amendment carried and adjournment was taken until 10:30.

COUNTY WILL HELP PAY FOR CITY JOB

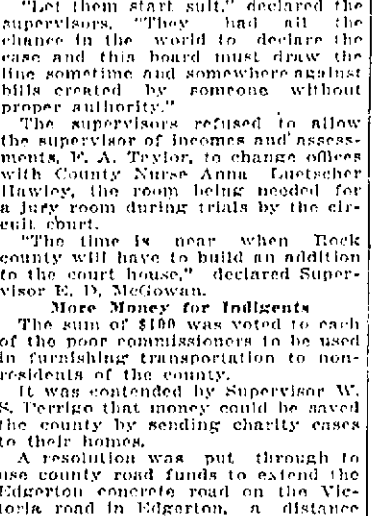

Highway Committee to Make Settlement for Paving on Pleasant Street.

Following the ratification of the sale of road bonds, the county board passed on several road matters before adjournment Thursday afternoon.

Establishing of "construction limits" within the city limits on concrete pavement in which the county pays for 18 feet of the paving, was discussed. The supervisors showed their confidence in the highway committee by leaving it to them to make a settlement with the city of Jansville on the route 20 pavement west of the city. It is anticipated that the county will pay the city for three blocks of new political houses, one might look and taste and see. So they threw this to the winds and voted to go and see the tiger. Most of them had a good time, though the town was so quiet that there was trouble in getting a near view of the inside works.

Thursday was a day of sweat and fumes of noise and speeches, of few thrills, of delicious and delicious ready to cheer most anything that was above the ordinary and with who" business was going all the time. Beautiful and sylvan-like Anna Case, good to look at, sang "On the Banks of the Wabash" in a voice which could carry an aria high C from any grand opera and no one ever heard that beautiful melody of Paul Dresser's in such a voice. It brought the Wabash right up to New York though it is quite possible that the majority of the Al Smith chums in the gallery had never heard the song before or knew that the Wabash was anything but a railroad.

Among other things that have been worrying the democratic delegation here was when Pat Harrison wandered from his text and, in denouncing the tariff, said Germany was prostrated because our high tariff barriers were so high that Germany could not sell goods here. Republicans quickly remarked that we were not making tariffs so that German goods could beat our own here. Pat will hear from that before the campaign is over.

So far, this convention has been interesting in each other. The most popular of "They have real beer over there."

EAST LA PRAIRIE
East La Prairie—C. B. Davis 40th birthday anniversary was celebrated by a birthday party Sunday, June 22. Relatives and friends attended from Illinois, Detroit, Bradford and Emerald Grove. Dinner was served at two long, flower-decorated tables. There was a huge birthday cake. Later a supper was served with ice cream, cake and lemonade. Mr. Davis was presented with a purse of money. Will McCosken is the owner of a new car. Seventeen women attended the I. M. B. S. meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Terry, Jansville. The salable article was drawn by Mrs. Sam Howard. She was also awarded the stunt prize. Supper was served at 4:30. Mrs. H. A. Finch spent the week-end at their cottage at Lake Koshkonong. Russell Finch has finished setting tobacco. Roads were badly damaged by recent rains, being almost impassable in places. Road supervisors are repairing them.

At a big bazaar in London recently, one of the novelties was a young woman covered with handkerchiefs. She had 110 dainty handkerchiefs, of all styles and sizes, disposed picturesquely over her frock.

PLATFORM BUILDERS IN JAM, DELAYING REPORT FRIDAY

up first the less controversial sections, found few changes necessary.

The first and principal plank, as reported by the sub-committee and approved, deals with prohibition, efficiency and corruption, charging the present administration with failure and accusing it of "attempting to impede and stop" the senate investigation. Reference is made specifically to the Tempel Dome, Daugherty and Veterans' bureau investigation and to the charges against republican members of congress which followed the Chicago grand jury inquiry into the veterans' bureau case.

Agricultural Aid
For relief of agriculture, the committee would pledge the party to foster creation of national cooperative marketing associations and a corporation of farm products; to take steps to bring agriculture to a parity with other industries; to seek reduction of transportation costs on products through development of international waterways; and to move for revision of the tariff and of rail and water transportation rates. It also calls for an international policy of cooperation designed to revive American exports to Europe, asserting that republican policy has had an opposite effect by retarding economic rehabilitation.

For Law Enforcement
The sub-committee's law enforcement declaration was revised by the committee to make it more definite and specific. It calls for prohibition. It also assails the republican administration's enforcement record, but avoids definite mention of the Volstead act.

Other planks approved by the committee favor:

- Reduction of rail tariff schedules, abolition of the railroad labor board, and repeal of the rate section of the transportation act.
- Reduction of federal taxes.
- Revision of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law.
- Public control and conservation of all oil reserves.
- Provision for the drafting of material resources as well as man power in event of war.
- Facilitation of steady employment for labor.
- Tolerance for the Philippines.
- Development of Muscle Shoals to reduce the cost of fertilizer.
- Exclusion of Japanese immigration.
- Government operation of the merchant marine until the ships can be sold to American citizens.
- Government aid in reclamation.
- Mississippi flood control.
- Regulation of the anthracite industry.
- Removal of restrictions that retard prosperity in the mining industry.
- Recovery of the national oil reserves and all other public resources "closed or put under control of private interests."
- Reduction of the development of Hawaii.
- Development of highways through federal aid.
- Public control and conservation of campaign contributions and expenditures.
- Employment of existing federal agencies to advance public education.

Charge Delay by McAdoo
Edmund P. Moore, national committeeman from Ohio, charged today that the McAdoo forces were attempting to delay the report on the platform committee in order to possibly try to have their candidate nominated for the presidency before the adoption of a platform. Moore declared that if successful of nomination, McAdoo would then be in a strong position to dictate the platform.

The Ohio leader and his friends promised to wage a desperate battle on the floor of the convention today should an attempt be made to begin balloting before the adoption of the platform.

"McAdoo forces on the resolutions committee," said Moore, "appear to be doing everything in their power to delay a report of that committee. Last night they insisted about talking on the less important phases of the platform, although there are only three planks in which the convention as a whole are particularly interested—Klan, prohibition and the league of nations."

grown enormously. From 1895 to the end of 1911, there were three hundred and thirty-nine cases in the circuit court for Rock County, resulting in two acquittals and one conviction. From the end of 1911 when I took the office, to the present date, there have been 15 murder and manslaughter cases in the county, 11 of whom were convicted, three acquitted and one committing suicide in the county jail after confession.

"For violations of the prohibition laws alone over $17,000 in fines were collected in Rock county last year, and 147 months, or over 12 years of jail sentences were imposed."

"Approximately a half a million dollars per year in law expenses are paid in the county and necessarily the least phase of this work is constantly increasing."

"Twenty or 25 years ago 85 or 100 cases per year were handled by the district attorney's office. Last year, 1923, practically 1,200 cases were disposed of in one case every hour and a half of the court's working day at an expense to the county for salary for the district attorney of less than $3 per case, though in one of the cases $10,000 was involved."

"Having held the office of district attorney for seven terms, a period of 48 years, I take the opportunity of thinking my friends throughout the county for the trust and confidence they have had in me, and the honor they have given me, as the office of district attorney in Rock county is a most important one, not only on account of the criminal matters, but also on account of the large amount of civil matters which are now handled by the office as I have already shown. The office of legal advisor of a county of over 100,000 inhabitants, with a value of $120,000,000, could not be otherwise."

"The fact, therefore, that I have been so honored by the electors of the county by being returned to the office time after time, has made me feel that so far as the majority of my fellow citizens are concerned, my conduct of the office has met with their approval."

"Feeling as I do, therefore, I wish again to thank my friends and to say to them that I sincerely appreciate the honor I have received at their hands."

All That Goes Up Comes Down

COMMENT ON THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR JUNE 29, 1924.

Review Lesson. Read Proverbs 14:34.

—WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

All that goes up comes down. This seems to be a law of nations as well as a law of gravitation. For a thousand years the Jews struggled upward. From Abraham working toward the light on a theory of one God they reached the pinnacle of success represented in the Hebrew nation under King David. Then the angle changed and it only required 400 years of time to scatter this proud nation, drive them from their hard won country and make of their exiles and slaves.

In government respects the rise and fall of the cost of living or the cost of government is shown by irregular lines drawn on a checkered and indexed square. Such a diagram depicting the rise and fall of the Hebrew nation would be extremely interesting. The line would start at the lower left hand corner with Abraham and continue across the square with a more or less steady rise until the end of David's rule. Then the line would begin to drop with Solomon. At Solomon's death the line would divide one branch representing the northern kingdom and the other Judah. The northern kingdom would drop in the scale of years much faster than Judah and would end sooner. While in the line representing Judah there would be here and there a rising tide and here and there an administration which might be represented by a horizontal line. In the northern kingdom the line would be going downward all the time. On the index lines of this diagram I would have the dates, but more important than this I would mark the index so that it would show where God's direction was followed and where it failed. This would always be found to correspond with the index lines. Such a diagram would impress upon the reader the verses in the Bible history which said "He did evil in the sight of God" or "He did as God wanted him to do."

It would be a fine thing for each one of us if we had a little private diagram showing the trend of our own lives. Some of us would rise steadily up to a point and that point might be when we cheated another in a land deal, or it might be when we quit going to church and got out of the habit of Sunday school, or it might be when we began getting rich. If I had a chart of the life of every man and woman in my town and was forbidden to destroy the record I would hire a safe deposit box and throw the key in the river.

For twelve articles we have followed the story of the decline of the Hebrew nation from Solomon to the destruction of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar and then through the writings credited to Ezra and Nehemiah we have brought a small part back to Jerusalem and have watched the rebuilding of the temple. Our Old Testament carries the story no further. The New Testament takes it up again with the coming of Christ. Between these two dates is a period of approximately 400 years unaccounted for in the Bible story.

During this time happened a great many most interesting things and events which have an illuminating bearing upon the New Testament. During this time the Pharisees and the Sadducees grew into notice. They are often referred to in the Gospels and without the history of this 400 years the references are not always easy to understand.

During this 400 years Greece came to dominate the world. Alexander the Great laid the mark of his genius across the nations, the battle of Marathon was fought and Leonidas made his famous stand with 300 heroes at Thermopylae.

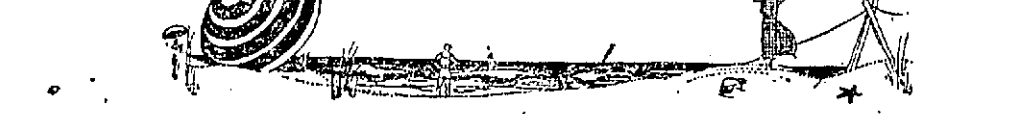

During these 400 years the Hebrews once more achieved political and religious freedom under the leadership of Judas Maccabeus and his brothers, sons of Mathathias, a priest who refused to prostitute his religion for place and power. When Antiochus, the Greek determined to bend all nations to his will even to the direction of religion, he struck a spark in the Jews which kindled a fire he could not stop. Low as they had become, tribute payers and subjects as they were, when their Greek ruler entered the sacred temple and attempted to use the altars dedicated to God in the ritualism of the Greek religion the Jews made one final stand. And it was successful. This story is told by the Hebrew historian Josephus and is also found in the books of the Maccabees which were bound with our Bibles a generation ago and called Apocrypha. Two of the books are included in some of the Bibles, but our canon did not include them.

The freedom of the Jews lasted from about 135 B. C. to 63 B. C. when Rome came on the scene and it was under the rule of Rome that Jesus was born.

When the Jews were sent as prisoners to Babylon they began to come to their senses. They saw a new world about them and they became a part of that world. But they were not free and in misfortune they turned again to the God whom they had dishonored. Men like Ezra and Nehemiah rose to leadership, Zerubbabel inspired them to do great deeds, the traditions of their people began to mean something to them, in prosperity when they were rolling in wealth and thought they were smart, they had paid very little attention to religion. It is so today. The churches shrink on a rising market and then when prosperity falls and hard times arrive the people turn to God and religion.

Here is the beginning and the ending of this review lesson. It is given

Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Means More Miles per Gasoline Dollar

To experienced motorists, who have made innumerable tests, Red Crown signifies extra mileage from every dollar spent for gasoline.

A College of Automotive Engineering, writes: "We have recently completed a comparative road test on fuel consumption. Red Crown Gasoline and two other brands were used. Results were as follows:

"Using 1 gallon as a unit of measurement we found that Red Crown gave approximately 1 mile more than the first competing brand, and 1 1/4 miles more than the second. Red Crown is undoubtedly the most efficient and economical motor fuel on the market."

Owners of truck fleets, interested in cutting mileage cost, use Red Crown Gasoline.

Taxicab companies, tabulating meter rates with mileage costs, use Red Crown Gasoline.

Passenger car owners, wanting the most travel per season's expenditure, use Red Crown Gasoline.

Put your driving on a business basis. Use Red Crown and get more miles for your money.

Vacation Time For All in Northern Wisconsin

The children thrive in Northern Wisconsin; Mother gets a real rest from household cares. It's vacation land for the entire family, among those cool, deep woods, beside those sparkling lakes and streams.

And the cost of a good, long outing there is low now—hotel and cottage accommodations to suit every purse—and reduced round-trip fares in effect daily to September 30th.

The favorite family route is the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. Extra fine and convenient train service; all "Milwaukee" employes in charge. Year after year busy men send their wives and children up there in our especial care.

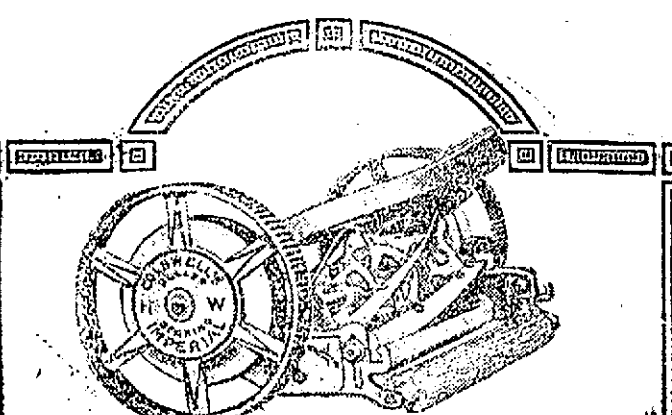

"The Fisherman's Special," with sleeping cars, coaches, dining car for all meals—breakfast before you arrive—leaves Union Station, Milwaukee, 8:40 p.m. daily, Central Standard Time. The same good service returning.

Wadhams Has a Word To Say About Fuel Doping

CAPITALIZING on the known poorness and inefficiency of the ordinary run of motor fuels, certain profit-keen manufacturers have succeeded in creating a mild curiosity in various cure-all injections for poor gasoline. These range from coal-tar and petroleum extracts down to packaged "ites" and "ines" of supposedly mysterious origin. Such, they say, will impart miraculous efficiency to poorer fuels. Naturally, with the propaganda of all of these so-called improvers in the air, it is the business of a quality product like —to apply every experiment of road, laboratory, theory and practice, to test their actual worth.

Wadhams True Gasoline

This Wadhams has done. And these are the straightforward conclusions:

1. While these preparations for the most part are frankly offered only as beneficial to low grade, common type fuel, it is not even claimed that they can remove or neutralize the actively harmful elements with which such fuel is packed.
2. The most extensive, costly and thorough tests have conclusively proved that clean, straight-run, old-fashioned gasoline of Wadhams quality cannot be improved by any method or substance now available commercially.

These are the final conclusions, briefly stated. We believe you may safely accept them at face value as the authoritative findings of an institution that for forty years has held quality as its foundation stone and the furnishing of it as a matter of public trust.

Your own mechanical judgment will agree with Wadhams assurance that "there is no safe substitute for true gasoline".

A Penny A Section For The Biggest and Best Sunday Newspaper For Wisconsin People

More Than a Half Million Readers!

"QUANTITY plus QUALITY" explains this overwhelming preference for The Sunday Milwaukee Journal in the better class homes throughout Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Wherever there is a sense of values this newspaper is considered as a truly remarkable offering at the same low price as the ordinary Sunday newspaper.

MORE and BETTER Service at No Extra Cost

- The Sunday Journal is prepared especially for Wisconsin people, by Wisconsin writers and editors, in its own plant in Milwaukee.
- The Journal has by far the largest organization of correspondents and staff writers for state news.
- The Journal is more carefully edited at greater expense.
- The Journal maintains its own news bureaus in New York, Washington and Madison.
- The Journal spends more money for national and world news services—seven of the greatest assure Journal readers full news coverage.
- The superior typographic and pictorial appearance of The Journal is more costly.
- The Roto-Art 3-Page Picture Section of The Sunday Journal costs $125,000 a year, alone.
- The Journal uses better grade features, fiction, cartoons, humor and comics.

Yet The Sunday Journal does not cost you one cent more than the other Sunday papers.

WHY This Extra Value Is Possible

The Journal is able to give so much to its readers for so small a price because it leads in earnings all other papers serving the Wisconsin public—by hundreds of thousands of dollars. No business can spend more than it makes—it follows that the newspaper that is most successful financially is in a position to give its readers more and better service in every way. No other newspaper in Wisconsin spends, or can afford to spend, as much as The Journal to give its readers thorough news coverage and high grade features.

A Wisconsin-Owned Institution—Independent

Because it does not need outside financial support The Journal is able to give Wisconsin people unbiased news and honest editorial comment—its independence is a guarantee of whole-hearted service to its readers. Are you one of the half million? If not, buy The Journal next Sunday and compare it with any other Sunday newspaper. You'll recognize the big difference in value—both as to quantity and quality.

SUMMER HEALTH WARNING ISSUED

Swat the Fly, Clean Up Barns and Stables, Wood-worth Urges.

The danger of summer weather coupled with unsanitary conditions was pointed out Friday by City Sanitary Inspector John J. Woodworth. Dr. Woodworth stressed the importance of special precautions at this time of the year, to prevent the spread of disease.

He urged that a swat the fly campaign be started within every home, so that the danger from the pest will be reduced to the minimum during the fly season. He also asked that all outdoor toilets be lined at this time.

Barns and stables should be cleaned particularly, Dr. Woodworth said, and manure piles hauled away at least twice a week.

Garbage collections are being made twice a week, but some difficulty is being experienced by the drivers in collecting from houses on streets where improvements are being made. All complaints for delays should be reported to the health office.

Housewives were asked by Dr. Woodworth to clean their ice boxes. They should be scrubbed thoroughly to avoid mephitic odors.

"If these sanitary precautions are taken at this time of the year, Dr. Woodworth said, health conditions will be improved greatly and we will have little illness during the summer months."

TWO ORGANIZATIONS TO COOPERATE IN ASSISTING GIRLS
As a result of a conference held Thursday afternoon, the Catholic Women's club and the Y. W. C. A. will cooperate in efforts to find employment for young women who, it is said, are being lured off by local factories and business firms. The unemployment situation was reported to be such that girls who have positions of any kind are advised to hold them if possible.

The city is being combed by the two organizations in the search for possible openings, and those in need of help of any kind as well as those desiring employment are asked to apply to either the Y. W. C. A. or Mrs. John Fitzgerald, president of Catholic Women's club, 121 Court street.

It is stated that while cotton and factory jobs are scarce, the ever present demand for household help is not diminished.

Woodmen to Perpetuate—The annual picnic of the Modern Woodmen of Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois will be held Saturday at the Winnebago county fair grounds, DeCATON, Ill. The feature of the day's activities will be an address by Charles E. Wycliff, Madison, national lecturer. All-day events will also be a part of the program.

State Firemen in Big Tournament
Reedsburg.—The Wisconsin State Firemen's association, choosing its largest tournament in history, decided at a business meeting, to meet at Watertown in 1925, the dates to be selected later. It was indicated that it wanted the tournament in 1925.

The tournament continues through Friday, closing at night. The results of the contests Thursday are as follows:

Hook and ladder: Horton, first; DeCATON, second; Jefferson, third. Time, 2:04.

Hoist contest: DeCATON, first; Cedarburg, second; New Glarus, third; Fort Atkinson, fifth; Portage, sixth. Time, 2:25.

Chief's race: won by John McCourt, Burlington, and assistant chiefs race by Earl Henry, Portage.

Ladder climbing: Harold Thomas, DeCATON, first; Arnold Wessell, DeCATON, second; Carl Schultz, DeCATON, third. Time, 2:11.

Coupling contest: Henry Wessell, DeCATON, first; William Gundlach, Portage, second; Paul Schultz, Horton, third. Time, 2:31.

Relay hook and ladder climbing: Horton, first; DeCATON, second; New Glarus, third; Cedarburg, fourth.

LARGE CROWD AT OPENING CONCERT
Fully 2,000 persons were in the rear of the court house park Thursday night to hear the opening concert by the lower city band. Two hundred and twenty-five automobiles were parked on the three streets surrounding the area, in many places forming three unbroken lines, allowing only passage for one car through the streets.

The appearance was the first outdoor concert under Director H. C. Jack, and the organization showed the result of long practice in the greater expression it exhibited.

Among the selections were "Memories of Stephen Foster" and a trio, "Two Little Buildinges," played by Walter Wilds and Clarence Foster, clarinet, and Carl Welton, piccolo.

GRAND JURY TO SIT IN FEDERAL COURT
A special grand jury session will be held in the United States court starting Monday, according to William H. Dougherty, U. S. attorney for the western Wisconsin district. Cases on the calendar of the grand jury will be called before the statute of limitation takes effect on a number of the pending cases.

HARTE SECRETARY OF OPTOMETRISTS
Evansville.—Archibald Harte, Evansville, was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the Wisconsin Association of Optometrists at the annual convention held in Berlin this week. Mr. Harte was named delegate to the national convention, held in Madison, Berlin, was elected president; and G. A. Michael, Green Bay, vice president.
